

CORPORATE LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

THE BEST LEADERS KNOW THEMSELVES

Self-awareness is the single greatest predictor of leadership effectiveness. Yet it's the skill most leaders never deliberately develop.

At Leading Edge, we change that - FAST

Since 2015, our immersive programs have helped hundreds of leaders and their teams unlock the self-awareness that drives real performance, stronger cultures, and lasting results.

Our approach is unlike anything else.

We deliver immersive learning experiences that combine equine enhanced learning with proven leadership frameworks, guided by expert facilitators.

Horses are honest. They respond instantly to your presence, intentions, and energy - with no filter. Working with them creates a mirror that no 360 survey or workshop can replicate.

The result: Immediate insight that lasts.

No horse experience necessary, no riding. Clients partner with horses from the ground.

- Gain tools they can apply the moment they walk back into the office

All programs:

- Designed to meet specific client objectives
- Include individual and team-based equine and non-equine sessions
- Offered as half, full or immersive multi-day programs
- Include a variety of catering options, corporate gift and photo package “Incredibly grateful to have spent the day at LEPD with colleagues from Salesforce!

It was a wonderfully insightful opportunity to explore what horses have to teach us about leadership, including attention, direction, energy, and congruence.”
